night. Loud, piercing air raid sirens would pierce the city as citizens lived in fear for nearly 80
days straight

Britain's Royal Air Force (RAF) was able to stop Germany, with the help of the enigma and radar.
The enigma was able to break codes of the Germans and the radar was able to locate the positions of the Luftwaffe, giving a great advantage to the RAF. Hitler was stopped for the first time...

"Desert Fox" Erwin Rommel

Erwin Rommel known as Desert Fox was sent to North Africa in 1941 and very successfully defeated the Allies troops. As tank commander for the Nazis, Rommel was very well respected and never accused of crimes against humanity... Food and supplies were blocked from entering the city. People ate cats, dogs, birds, drank oil from factories and even stories of cannibalism have been told. This battle lasted nearly 900 days. The Red Army eventually stopped Germany's advancement towards Moscow as Germany was unprepared for the harsh winters and lost nearly 500,000 troops.
